

TODAY'S CAREERS IN FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES

Did You Know? Family and consumer sciences college graduates are qualified for a variety of career options in such fields as business, government, education & human services.

Child Development

Child Life Specialist
Pre-school Teacher
Pre-school Director
Head Start Director
Early Start Director

Fashion

Fashion Merchandiser
Fashion Designer
Fashion Illustrator
Pattern Maker
Textile Surface Designer
Production Development
Sales Representative
Retail Store Manager
Trim Sourcer
Inventory Allocator
Buyer/Assistant Buyer
Merchandise Planner
Merchandise Manager
Museum Curator
Accessories Merchandiser
Jewelry Merchandiser
Fashion Journalist

Food and Nutrition

Culinary Arts (Chef)
Food Scientist
Hospitality Management
Restaurant Management
Nutritionist
Clinical Dietitian
Dietary Manager
Food Service Manager
Nutrition Educator
School Food Service Director
Sport Nutrition Specialist
Product Testing
Product Label Specialist
Menu Planner

Family Services

Adult Education Instructor
Community Educator
Extension Educator
Intervention Specialist
Family Violence Counselor
Church Pastor or Minister
Parent Counselor
Child Protection Investigator

Housing/Home Design

Interior Design
Home Sales
Purchasing Agent
Visual Merchandiser
Retail Store Manager
Manufacturer's Sales Rep
Home Product Designer
Project Manager
Property Manager
Facilities Manager
Product Testing & Review
Planner/Allocator
Furniture Buyer

Consumer Affairs

Better Business Bureau®
Family Financial Educator
Financial Planner
Loan Counselor
Consumer Credit Counselor
Legislative Assistant
Public Policy Advisor
Financial Aid Officer